Conference Theme

The Scottish Higher Education Review, second consultation paper identified Higher Education as a key driving force in maintaining a knowledgeable well trained workforce and developing and maintaining future economic growth. This central role in the future of Scotland's economy for HEI's and FEC's is being recognised by increased funding for Lifelong Learning. The purpose of this conference is to stimulate debate in the academic and business communities as to what can and should be offered as workforce development opportunities.

Who Should Attend

The conference would be of benefit to anyone active in the following areas

- Academics involved in planning/delivering Lifelong Learning/CPD
- Training/Personnel Managers from industry, commerce and the public Sector.
- Local & National Government agencies involve in promotion/delivery of Lifelong Learning
- Voluntary and Charitable Sector organisations involve in promotion/delivery of Lifelong Learning
- Industry Bodies and Trade Unions
